I do not want to see the cw requirement dropped. The amateur bands need technical minded people to carry on and advance the hobby.
Those that are always wanting something for nothing have no intentions or ability to contribute to the advancement of the hobby. They just want access to the hf bands. Most of us have already gotten a taste of these types in the last few years since the requirement was dropped to 5 wpm. Please for the sake of our bands do not drop the code requirement.

Thanks
John WR8D